Educational Institution,

Arbroath, Scotland.

Comely Banks, Oct. 1874.

Mrs. PETERS, widow of Captain J. S. PETERS, of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, begs to inform the friends of her late husband that she is desirous of taking charge of children who may be sent home to Britain for their education.

Arbroath is one of the healthiest towns in Scotland, and, from its proximity to the seacoast, the winters are peculiarly mild and open. The house is large and commodious, with an extensive and retired garden. Being on the outskirts of the town, the open country and the seabeach are close at hand.

Arbroath is the seat of a High-class Public School, in which children can receive all the branches of a thorough education, and from which pupils can pass direct to any of the Universities.

Parents who may entrust their children to Mrs. PETERS, may rely on their having a pleasant home, in which they will meet with kindly treatment, and enjoy cheerful society. Their studies, along with those of her own Children, will be superintended by Mrs. PETERS' brother, Dr. ANDERSON, who is in extensive general practice, is resident in the house.

POETS IN ALL AGES HAVE DEVOTED LAVISH PRAISE upon that which is justly constitutes the pride of womanhood, a shiny, silky, wavy and rich head of hair. Baldness in olden times was considered a great imperfection, and still greater now in modern times, when an unfailing, safe and agreeable means to avoid it is within the easy reach of all. Even in cases where the application of the Oriental Tonic is not exactly demanded by disease, it is prudent to adopt it as a hair dressing, since it cannot do any harm, and will, on the contrary, keep the scalp free from all blemish, and impart to the hair an enhanced appearance becoming to all. Gentlemen of taste adopt it as a hair dressing, and extend its use to the beard, because it imparts to it a rich gloss, giving an appearance of refinement and neatness not to be overlooked in the most refined. For sale by all dealers in perfumery and drug stores throughout the world.

ORIENTAL REVOLUTION OVER.

Mercedes, Dec. 5th.

Captain Agustin Zapata, who was with the rebels, has just arrived with news that on Friday night (4th inst.) the Government troops attacked the rebel forces under Colonel Maximo Perez, at the Duraznito, in front of David Devoto's estancia, and cut them to pieces. Zapata supposes that Maximo Perez was either captured or slain. He thinks the Government troops were not militia, but troops of the line, from their mode of firing.

T. A. CAMPOS,
Gefe Politico.

Note.—Commander Pereyra of the National Guards has just brought word that the Minister of War overtook and surprised Maximo Perez before daybreak. Not one of the rebels escaped.

AMNESTY BY PRESIDENT AVELLANEDA.

To the rebel soldiers who laid down their arms at Junin! As you have submitted to the National Government I hereby permit all of you to return to your homes, hoping that clemency will suffice to correct the errors into which you have been led.

During two months you followed the banner of revolt, and you saw the fruits of such a movement.

For two months you have been hunted about from place to place, and suffered all manner of hardship, seeing moreover the horrible spectacle of your having the Indians of the desert for allies, fighting by your side in two engagements, in which for the first time you suffered the ignominy of defeat. Before that you were accustomed to victory as loyal soldiers, on the fields of Paraguay, Talita and Don Gonzalo.

You come now again to take shelter under the glorious banner of the Republic. Your sorrows and sufferings are at an end. Return quietly to your homes and labors.

As President of the Republic I hope you will not forget this lesson. Keep it always before you that it may save you from greater calamities another time. All the leaders, chiefs and former rulers whom you were accustomed to follow are now fallen and powerless at the feet of the National Government, which now restores to you the blessings of peace, contentment and liberty that you forfeited by the revolt.

Return to your homes! A mild winter has been followed by a beneficent and rainy spring, covering our plains with a rich pasture. Go, and bear in mind that the protection of the National and Provincial authorities will follow you everywhere.

The Neva Mails.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

London, Nov. 9th.

The unexpected news of the death of Mr. Frederick Hardman, Times correspondent at Paris, will create a feeling of regret. It is thirty years ago since he fought in Spain as captain of cavalry in the British Legion, under Sir De Lacy Evans, and achieved considerable repute by his racy sketches of military life in Spain, in Blackwood's Magazine, to which for a great many years he was a constant contributor before his connection with the Times. As special correspondent at Paris his career was a long and brilliant one, but he essentially belonged to the pre-telegraphic school of journalism, and the wear and tear consequent upon this age of wire had no doubt some share in enfeebling his once robust frame. Few journalists had a larger number of friends, and to all who knew him his untimely death will cause sincere regret.

Her Imperial Majesty the Empress of Russia will visit her Majesty at Windsor Castle on the 28th instant. During her stay the christening of the infant Prince will take place under circumstances of great ceremony and splendour. Should nothing interfere to retard the convalescence of her Imperial Highness the Duchess of Edinburgh, she is expected to arrive at Eastwell Park on the 14th instant, on which occasion she will be accompanied by her Imperial Majesty the Empress of Russia.

At a crowded meeting of Edinburgh University students, held on Saturday evening, the following noblemen and gentlemen were nominated for the rectorship:—The Duke of Argyll, the Earl of Derby, Sir W. Ferguson, Dr. Lyon Playfair, Sir W. Stirling Maxwell, Mr. John Bright, Mr. Tennyson, Mr. Darwin, the Earl of Salisbury, the Duke of Buccleuch, the Duke of Edinburgh, and the Earl of Roseberry. On a vote being taken it was declared that the Earl of Derby was a large majority over the other candidates. The result was received with enthusiastic cheering. The election takes place next Saturday.

The great painting of St. Anthony, by Murillo, has been stolen from the Cathedral of Seville.

It is stated in Prussian circles that the Northern Powers will not support the proposal of Turkey that Roumania should ask the sanction of the Porte before concluding commercial conventions with foreign Powers.

The statement made by the Journal des Debats that the German representative at Lisbon favoured the idea of an Iberian union is wholly unfounded.

Negociations continue at Berlin relative to the conclusion of commercial conventions by Roumania with foreign powers, and appear likely to result in an arrangement with the Porte on this subject. In the contrary case, however, it is believed that the Powers will disregard the opposition of the Porte.

There is a rumour that Bishop Dupanloup will revive the motion for the restoration of the Monarchy, basing his argument on a Papal brief.

The Carlists are reported to have raised the siege of Irun. General Loma visited the besieged lines on Friday, and considered that resistance would be possible for several days. At the same time preparations were being made for the relief of the town.

The arrival of the Prince and Princess of Wales, with their imperial brother-in-law, the Cesarewitch of Russia, at their Norfolk home, after a visit to Warwickshire, has been made the occasion of opening the new station at Wolferton. As soon as it was duly opened, the Royal and Imperial party entered the carriages in waiting, and proceeded to Sandringham House.

At Munich an association of Liberals, supporters of Germany unity, has been formed with Herr Vecchiani as the first president of the committee.

The chief editor of the Vienna Presse was summoned as a witness in the Arnim case, but relying on the Austrian law he declined to give any information as to how the dispatches published in that paper were obtained.

The King of Ashantee has settled down quietly, being unable to recover his ascendancy over other native tribes. The Houssas are pillaging the traders, and a white officer is to be sent to the Prah to check them. The chiefs were to hold a meeting at Cape Coast to discuss the slave trade and other matters.

A letter has been issued by Earl Nelson, Mr. Beresford-Hope, and Dr. Irons to the Convocations in reference to the revision of the Prayer-book.

The new Lord Mayor was sworn in on Saturday in the presence of many members of the City companies. At the banquet in the evening he made allusion to the projected bill for the municipal government of London, which he opposed, thinking that it would in time extinguish the privileges of the liverymen. Mr. Alderman Cotton remarked that if the guilds acted together they might defy any attempt at alteration.

The capital of the Artisans, Labourers and General Dwellings Company, which was originally fixed at a quarter of a million, is to be quadrupled, owing to the large sums required for the Shaftesbury Park and Queen's Park Estates. As to the latter applications were made for 700 houses before a brick was laid.

In the final heat between Jesus and First Trinity for the Cambridge University Fours a splendid race was rowed on Saturday. The umpire declared it a dead heat.

Two fatal accidents happened on the Midland Railway on Saturday. In the morning part of the roof of a tunnel in Cheshire fell in, killing one man. At night, as an up express train was approaching London, it left the rails and parted; the engine and one carriage ran half a mile into a tunnel at Elstree; the other portion was stopped by running up an embankment. One passenger was crushed to death, and several others were severely injured.

UP THE RHINE AND OVER THE ALPS.

A TEN DAYS' SCAMPER.

(By a River Plate man)

"I have stopped at the station" is now the common answer when you ask a man if he has ever been at Jerusalem or Nineveh. It is very tantalizing to the untravelled tourist to be whisked past the names of places of historic interest, and catch just a vision of some well-known town or spire under the glimpses of the moon. It rather destroys romance to see the resemblance that all railway stations and their adjuncts in all countries bear to one another. It is one of the signs of the times—a sign of that approaching solidarity socialists have dreamed about. It requires a certain mental effort to assure yourself that the sandwich you ask for at a station in German or Turkish is not the same sandwich, and given to you by the same young lady you last saw at London Bridge.

True enough, we have not to go far from a railway station even in Europe to see the old world and some of its horrors. It is visible in the delapidated huts huddled round the bishop's palace or feudal castle even in the Rhine in full view of the hurricane-decked steamer with its cargo of Cockney men and women. You find it with all its picturesqueness and inconveniences as soon as you enter Spain; as ladies and families from Buenos Ayres discover it they stop at Lisbon and exchange a day or two of the swell of the bay of Biscay for several days of fleas and discomfort on shore.

Musings of this kind in a night train from Mayence are interrupted early in the small hours by the melodramatic voice of a swarthy Grandducal guard who enquires in deep toned 'cantabile' if any of the 'herren reisenden' are for Ba-a-aden? or if all the 'herren reisenden' are for Ba-a-asel? Again the door is slammed. Another doze and it is daylight. As you wake up and look out, a certain ruggedness of the land leads the oldest and least enthusiastic to exclaim to himself, "By Jove! you are in Switzerland.

From Bale the land rises gradually. At Olten station there are unmistakeable signs of valley and mountain; but it is not until you have shot through many tunnels and caught here and there a passing glance at decided Swiss scenery that on nearing Lucerne an irregular ridge on the horizon and of a much deeper blue than the sky announces the vicinity of the Alps. Then comes as fresh as ever, the stereotyped Swiss objects we have all of us in our time pulled about in boxes of toys. White churches with double towers, red roofs and rows of oblong black holes for windows, quaint windmills, the filligree chalet, prim trees, and bright emerald streams. We skirt the tame and placid little lake of Sempach, and finally come to the green waters of Lucerne, with its town and nestling villages mirrored in the shadow of Mount Pilatus. The mountain stands like a sentinel at this entrance to the Oberland range, through the Brunig pass.

As everyone knows the first thing to be done on arriving at Lucerne is to ascend the Rigi Kulm, a hill over 5000 feet and pass the night there and see the whole line of the Eastern and the Bernese Alps at sunset and sunrise. Your fathers and mothers climbed the Rigi on foot or rode up on horseback, and you can do the same now, as I did; but I recommend intending tourists to restrain their love of the picturesque and take the 'rail.' The reason is a sanitary one. Even on horseback on a blazing summer afternoon, you arrive about sunset fatigued and hot at the summit; and as soon as the sun goes down there is immediately a change of temperature of sometimes 30 or 40 degrees, which may give you a chill unpleasant, if not dangerous. If you object to the railway, then ride or walk up earlier in the day. The Rigi railway is a marvel of engineering. It is the invention of a Swiss engineer, M. Riggenbach, and an imitation of an American system. The wheels and rails are cogged, and as you are assured with perfect safety, the locomotive drags you at the rate of three miles an hour up gradients of 1 in 4, and at the extreme edge of fearful precipices 4,000 feet deep. The whole train consists of the coffee mill in front and one open car in which you giggle and chat with your companions, and anon knock off the ashes of your cigar into the abyss below.

It is at the top of the Rigi you get the first and by far the most impressive idea of the grandeur of the Alps; and you also get the first taste of the supreme Cockneyism of a modern Alpine town when you follow the ruck; and I strongly suspect that barring the mere bodily fatigue, the humbug of the thing pursues you to the summit of Mont Blanc. The Graphic of the last week gives a capital series of engravings illustrating such a suspicion. The picture of a Mr. Briggs striding over a yawning crevasse three inches in width is inimitable.

The dining room, and even the dinner on the top of the Rigi, would do credit to an hotel in any capital of Europe. About 50,000 people ascend every season. The present hotel is as large nearly as the Star and Garter, and they are now making another equal in size.

As an untravelled Londoner, I must confess to a queer abdominal sensation in the Righi hotel, such as one might experience on a first visit to the truck of a man-of-war's mainmast; a sensation that no frescoes and gilding in the grand saloon, which insisted upon teeling to me like a ship's cabin; no white neckcloths of waiters, hysterical glee of young ladies, brilliant society, wins, ice and cigars, could thoroughly eradicate. Once out of the gas-lit, noisy hotel, there was the death-like silence of the mountain top, the darkness, the nothingness above and around you. Little by little the sounds and lights of the hotel expire. The last chirrup and squeal of a flirting chambermaid follows the last heavy pair of boots which resound through the empty corridors as they fall at the bedroom door of a fat German. All is as still as the grave, and ghosts of snowy peaks rising out of boiling mist peer through the starlight and in at the windows of your uncomfortably high chamber.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

To-day we have two great attractions, the Tigre Regatta and the Transit of Venus. Special train for the former at 10·40 a.m. from Central Station, calling at Retiro and Belgrano. Smoked glasses for the latter should be ready after 9 p.m.

Sunday was a choice day for 'pasearing.' Some went to Flores to see the Peace-celebration, others to Belgrano or the Tigre to breakfast at Watson's or Madame Champion's; others to visit Mr. Sastre's Tempe Argentino in the islands; others by Capt. Bruce's steamer to Rosario, the steamer being crowded with passengers.

The swimming season of B. Ayres properly begins to-day, although for the past fortnight the Ribera has been crowded with bathers of all complexions. In the last generation, and even in our own recollection, the clergy used to make a procession to the water's side, and bless the river, on Dec. 8th.

Palermo park is now crowded with carriages every evening about sundown, but the road thither is so dusty as to spoil the paseo. If only ten families were to subscribe $10 m|c. per day each it would suffice to pay a watermau. But there is no public spirit in B. Ayres. Mr. Sarmiento is really doing wonders with the park, and will hand down his name to posterity as Sobremonte did in Cordoba, by a most useful and delightful work for the city.

Yesterday morning the cavalry of the Retiro were going through sword-exercise, wrestling, &c., in the wood near Pobre Diablo, while the infantry acted as tirailleurs or skirmishers.

The number of steamers lying idle at the Tigre is surprising. Some are in first-class order, such as the Edward Everett and other smaller vessels; others are going to pieces, such as the old mail-steamer Camilla; others shew signs of decay, such as the late Captain Ramsay's steamer Alvaro Gomez (on which our correspondent Sinbad so often witnessed engagements in Paraguay.) The steamer Republica was bought by an Italian for 3,000 pats., and is now being suitably fitted up as an hotel in the islands, where passengers can go and spend a day among the shady willows.

The body of a man who had apparently been drowned was taken up on the bank of the Riachuelo, yesterday morning: the body was quite naked, and we have not heard whether it was supposed to have been a foreigner, or of what nationality.

Ex-president Sarmiento is going to the Regatta to-day. The article in Sunday's Tribuna was probably written by him, and he advises his country men to imitate the Ingleses in Boat-racing and Cricket, as being diversions of a free and manly people, who invented Magna Charta, trial by jury, telegraph cables, &c., and founded an empire on which the sun never sets.

The heat on Sunday, and particularly yesterday, was simply awful, and it will be the best of good luck if Jupiter Pluvius refrain from coming down on the Regatta people to-day. As we mentioned a few days ago, a new moon is due this evening about 7 o'clock. We are afraid of this new moon.

The flare-up at Flores on Sunday was a tip-top affair. The Juzgado was decorated with flags, while the street in front of the church was strewn with sweet-smelling fennel; a guard of honour was drawn up in front, which fired discharges during the Te Deum, while a fine band discoursed most eloquent music. The display of flowers from all the neighbouring quintas was gorgeous. The lunch at the Ramos quinta was most recherché, and ample justice was done to it. The tramways from town were crowded, and everything passed off well. Mr. Justice of Peace Dorr was the life of the scene. The 'Village' looked its best for the occasion, all the girls and 'boys' turning out in holiday attire of the gayest colours. The display of bunting was enormous, fully 2500 flags hanging across and along the streets. It was, certainly, a great day for Flores.

The Royal Mail steamer Neva arrived at Montevideo on Sunday, and her papers were delivered here yesterday morning. There is no political news of primary importance. Our advices from London represent people there as absolutely torn with conflicting news and emotions respecting the state of things in the Plate. Every day the telegraph starts some fresh 'bola' One day the River Plate men turned sea-green at the word 'disentegration;' the next they were rose colour at the whisper of a 'convenio;'

but the wildest row was on the days when it was whispered at Rio, announced at Saint Vincent, and telegraphed from Lisbon that a leading Buenos Ayres Britisher, homeward bound on board the Royal Mail boat, had a copy of the 'convenio' in his pocket. There was a rush made for this gentleman the first day he visited the city: indeed, every man that arrived by the steamer was at a high premium. The 'convenio' man was all but collared and asked for his news or his life; in vain he protested that there was no 'convenio,' that Mitre was not in Martin Garcia, nor Colonel Campos in San Juan, that the postal service between B. Ayres and Uruguay was not interrupted etc; all wanted the 'convenio.' Argentine securities reeled up and down during the terrible excitement to get the news, and it was some time before our distinguished friend could expound the real state of the case, when stocks at once stiffened. River Plate men going home now may expect a warm reception in London where people are frantic for reliable news, the Cablegrams being such frightful 'bolas.'

H. M. S. Amethyst leaves this port for Montevideo to-day. English society will hear this with regret, as Captain Chatfield and his officers won golden opinions while here, and the splendid entertainment given on board their ship will long be remembered as a red-letter day by those who had the pleasure of assisting at it.

Yesterday and Sunday were decidedly newsy days. The wind up of the Perez revolution in Banda Oriental, the defeat of Arredondo, the arrival of the Neva, &c., contributed to brighten things up very much. The weather is so frightfully hot however that such exciting news is very trying.

Turmeau the Teaman is always turning up with something new in the nick of time. He has chartered the fine steamer Victoria to accommodate his friends at the Regatta to-day. She lies only five minutes walk from the railway station; having a flush deck the races can be seen from her most advantageously.

An enormous consignment of lemon squeezers, for making cocktails, arrived at Standard Court yesterday. We suppose they are consigned to our auctioneering tenants. A Good Templar to whom we showed them said that such merchandize made him feel quite lemoncholy.

Two years ago a Connecticut man received a gross insult from a neighbour who lives a quarter of a mile or more from him. He determined upon revenge. After long meditation he has now purchased a peacock and a jackass, and anchored them in a field adjoining his neigbour's backyard. The neighbour has advertised his house for sale, and the insulted individual is satisfied.

Mr. Cranwell, the eminent apothecary of Calle Victoria, presented to our museum some rare and valuable coins. One is a Pompeiian red-cent, and amongst the rest is one remarkably like a Queen Anne's farthing. If so our fortune is made, and we'll devote the 70,000 ounces to building an Asylum for distressed editors.

Preparations are now going on in Plaza 25 de Mayo for the triumphal entry of troops, but no one seems to know on what day it will take place. We hear it will be the finest spectacle of the kind ever seen in Buenos Ayres.

The inauguration of the tram line from Belgrano to Saavedra, announced for to-day, has been postponed till further notice, as the Municipality have ordered some alterations. The auction sale of lands has also been postponed.

Madame Farnesi gave a dancing party on Friday evening last to numerous friends to inaugurate her splendid new school for girls in Calle Cangallo No. 338. The spacious suite of rooms was beautifully decorated, and nothing could be more tasteful than the lighting and general arrangements. Dancing music etc. made time fly on lightest wings till the hour for retiring came, when all separated, charmed with the delightful evening passed.

When Joseph Bonaparte first came to this country, says an American paper, he travelled with a number of attendants. On one occasion, stopping at an hotel, he was well entertained, and was quite profuse in his compliments to mine host. In the morning, when the landlord made out his bill, he put in every item he could think of; yet when he added it up, he did not think that the total was large enough for the ex-monarch to pay. So he reviewed the bill, and added a few more items. Yet still it did not seem enough. Then he added one more—'To kicking up an infernal fuss generally, fifty dollars.'

We yesterday submitted the sample of barley sent to us last week to a Dublin man who has had long experience of the brewing trade there. He shook his head and began to hum "The Wind that shakes the Barley." He took some grains away with him to steep, and be better able to judge, as the barley, like a great many people, may be better than it looks.

There will be grand doings at Belgrano to-day. Tons of flags and banners have been sent out from town. There will be a Te Deum, a magnificent banquet and a ball. Ample tramway and railway arrangements have been made.

We remark that our colleague La Politica has started a museum. It is a capital thing for a rainy day, when news is scarce.

Mr. Spears informed us yesterday that No. 48 of that unequalled publication "Picturesque America" has arrived, and will be delivered to-morrow. This number completes the volume, it is a splendid one.

The Germania Club, 215, Calle Tucuman, gives a grand 'funcion' to-day. The fun begins at 2 o'clock with a garden concert; then a game of bowls for prizes, a theatrical performance at 8 o'clock, and a ball commencing at 11. This is a fine programme for one day.

Mr. George Lord, son of Mr. George Lord, a merchant in Liverpool, died on the 26th of October, at Mrs. Farrell's estancia at Canuelas, where he was acting as teacher. Liverpool papers will kindly copy this notice.

The Rosario Cricket Club plays a match to-day. We believe cricket is rather popular in Rosario.

We are requested to correct a statement in the STANDARD that the Pacific Company had reduced its fares from Montevideo to Valparaiso to £26. It appears the reduction will only take place in the middle of 1875 for those persons going to the Chilian Exhibition in September. The Chilian Government has conveyed its thanks to the manager on the West Coast for so timely a reduction.

We understand that a gentleman just arrived from Chivilcoy contributes to to-day's Republica an interesting account of his visit to the encampment near that town, where General Mitre, and Rivas, Machado, and 400 officers or notable men of the rebel army are kept prisoners. The articles in the Tribuna recalling the services of Gen. Mitre at and after Pavon, in re-modelling the republic, and urging the Government to mitigate the sentence upon him, meet with approval from the foreign population, including the large section who condemned the revolution from the outset.

Bieckert's beer-park is now a 'romeria' on feast-days. Hundreds of people in the gardens, enjoying the fresh breeze of the river. There are games of all kinds, and a fine restaurant.

A TRIP TO THE CENTRAL ARGENTINE COLONIES

The colonies are four in number, and that nearest Rosario is the most important and is called Bernstadt. It was founded March 2nd 1870 with 150 settlers, and counts now over 2,000 inhabitants, mostly German-Swiss, with a mixture of French and Italians. Many of the colonists are of gentle and kindly manners, such as the families of Schaer, Borwalet, Flotron, Lisgenthaler, Fischer, Muller, Acuña, &c.

The soil is very fertile and the farms have the appearance of a great chessboard. Besides the raising of wheat, maize and all kind of vegetables the colonists give much attention to fruit-trees, dairy produce, pigs and poultry. The pastures are so rich that every family has its cows, and produces a quantity of cheese and butter for the Rosario and other markets.

The advanced condition of the colony is a proof of the great care and skill of Mr. Perkins, the general manager of the four colonies. The wheat crop this year of Bernstadt will exceed 18,000 bushels. The superintendent of the colony is Mr. Broff.

Roldan, the capital of Bernstadt colony, is a thriving village, well-planted, adjoining the railway station: there are church, mill, race-course colonial office, and many fine houses. On Sundays it is particularly gay, when they the families come to Mass and afterwards make their purchases in the shops of the village. At sundown you will hear the Swiss singing the Ranz des Vaches as they go home.

A ride of two leagues through a fine, rolling country brings us to the colony of Carcarañal Este, founded in June 1870 with 8 colonists; it has now 633 hardy and laborious settlers like those of Bernstadt. They have raised this year about 12,000 bushels of grain. Superintendent, Mr. Ruffner. The houses near the railway station are, some azotea, some ranchos, with nice plantations around. Mageran's hotel is well-served, and game abounds. The river offers excellent bathing, and Messrs. Rogers Hill and Co. are going to put up a mill.

Cañada Gomez colony counts 250 settlers, having been founded Sept. 2nd 1872. The farms, like those just mentioned, are not yet fenced, but the wheat-crop is so fine that it may be put down at 4,500 bushels. The village, near the railway station, comprises two hotels, several shops, coffee houses, smithies, and well built houses. Superintendent, Mr. Berstcher.

Tortugas, the newest of the colonies, is on the river of the same name, a mile from the station. There are only about 150 colonists, the most notable being an Italian, Mr. Borella, whose family are very polite to visitors. The Superintendent, Mr. Villoz, has a fine residence and colonial-office, attached to which is a yard full of English pigs. Some of the colonists have ranchos, others wooden houses: the wheat crop reaches about 3,000 bushels.

The Central Argentine colonies are making such progress, under Mr. Perkins, that in time they will stretch along the whole railway to Cordoba.

THE LINCOLN MONUMENT.

UNVEILING THE STATUE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Springfield, Illinois, Oct. 15th.

The procession began to form at 11 o'clock, Gov. Beveridge acting as Grand Marshal. President Grant, with Secretary Belknap, occupied a carriage at the head of the procession. In other carriages rode Vice-President Wilson with Sir Powell Buxton, M. P., and W.G. Foster, M.P. of England; Generals McDowell and Custer and Hon. J. K. Dubois, and following him was a long line of army officers, military and civil societies.

The band played an appropriate air at the unveiling, and President Grant stepping forward, amid enthusiastic applause, spoke as follows—

"Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen—On an occasion like the present it is a duty on my part to bear testimony to the great and good qualities of the patriotic man whose earthly remains now rest beneath the dedicated monument. It was not my fortune to make the personal acquaintance of Mr. Lincoln till the beginning of the last year of the great struggle for national existence.

"During those years of doubt and despondency among the many patriotic men of the country Abraham Lincoln never for a moment doubted but the final result would be in favor of peace, union and freedom to every race in this broad land. His faith in an all-wise Providence directing our arms to this grand result was the faith of the Christian that his Redeemer liveth. Amidst obloquy, personal abuse and hate undisguised, which was given vent to without restraint through the press, upon the stump and in private circles, he remained the same staunch, unyielding servant of the people. Never exhibiting revengeful feelings toward his traducers, he rather pitied them, and hoped, for their own sake and the good name of their posterity, that they might desist. It did not occur to him for a single moment that the man Lincoln was being assailed, but that the treasonable spirit, ever waiting to destroy the freest Government the sun ever shone upon, was giving vent to itself on him as the chief executive of the nation only because he was such executive. As a lawyer in your midst he would have avoided all that slander, for his life was a pure and simple one; and he, no doubt, would have been in his quiet home a much happier man. But who can tell what might have been the fate of the nation but for the pure, unselfish and wise administration of Lincoln? From March 1864 to the day when the hand of an assassin opened the grave for Mr. Lincoln, then President of the United States, my personal relations with him were as close, as intimate, as the nature of our respective duties would permit. To know him personally was to love and respect him for his great qualities of head and heart, and for his patience and patriotism. With all his disappointments, from failures on the part of those to whom he intrusted the command, and the treachery on the part of those who had gained his confidence but to betray it, I never heard him utter complaint, or cast censure for bad conduct or bad faith. It was his nature to find excuse for his adversaries. In his death the nation lost its greatest head. In his death the South lost its most just friend."

The monument may be described thus:—The ground-plan is 120 x 72 feet, with four flights of granite steps leading up to the terrace, on which are statuary groups at the four corners, representing infantry, cavalry, artillery, and marine power: these groups are valued at $70,000. The central shaft rises to a height of 100 feet; it is hollow, and entrance is obtained from the terrace. The crowning work of the monument is the statue of Lincoln. It rises in heroic proportions, a figure holding in the left hand a scroll, upon which is written 'Emancipation,' and in the right the pen with which Lincoln blotted from American history the stain of slavery. As a symbol of the Union to which he devoted his life, the banner of the Republic is thrown in bass-relief upon the fasces near the statue, at the foot of which is a crown of laurels.

ON 'CHANGE.

Dec. 7th 1874

Ounces	406
Soys	122½
Pats	25
Nat. Bonds	68
Cedulas	80¾

The Cedula market ruled weak at the opening and firm at the close, the sales of the day reached 216,000.

The news of the defeat of Arredondo which at first caused such notice, did not carry much weight in the afternoon, as it appears the Government, until confirmation is received, will not act on the message.

The stock sales were—

Cedulas:

Cash	6,000	80¾
End month	35,000	80¾
do	15,000	80¾
do	20,000	80⅝
do	20,000	80¼
do	120,000	80⅝

Market closed firm and buyers.

Exchange rules dull at 50¾ to 51d., and in France 5,35 to 5,37. Money was offered more freely to-day on treasury bills, and it is said that one of our private banks telegraphed on Saturday to Europe stating that Government bills were offering at 2½ per cent per month and for orders to discount same.

It was rumoured that some favorable produce telegrams dated Liverpool Saturday were received to-day.

The Belgian steamer Nelusko took the following cargo:—

2,000 hides,
2,300 bales.

The Sunday judicial sale of Barton property by the Mortgage Bank amounted to nothing, no bidders.

The sale of a coal cargo at 12 pats. is reported, house coal at 13.

The sale of 7,000 salted hides at the Huergo saladero is reported at 63 rls.

In wool this morning there was a fair stir enough, about 25,000 ar. sold at the Once from 70 to 80, and about 20 000 ar. stands over. At the South market about 20,000 ar. in the Station and 40 to 50 bullock carts in Plaza. Newton's wool in, not yet sold; the following were the principal sales in this market:—

600 ar. fine wool at 90.
700 ar. good wool 80.
600 do do 78.
1400 do do 72.
600 do do 70.
1200 do do 74½.

There was some enquiry for National Bonds to-day, none offering.

The Hevelius entered but it seems there was some difficulty in getting a small steamer; as the Neva entered late, nothing ashore before closing hour.

The week has opened with intense heat, good news from Provinces, Arredon to prisoner; the Neva's news, the Banda Oriental revolution over, the Chivilcoy troops coming back to the town, and the Regatta preparations. It was indeed a plethora of news, boys rushing madly through the streets shouting out defeat of Arredondo, passengers from the Uruguay with Paysandu bulletins giving the defeat of Maximo Perez, and merchants in town with Telegrams from London to 5th giving complete restoration of confidence in River Plate. Wherever we went we met news. The heat to-day, however, floored everything; the Bolsa gates were thrown open and the hall was tolerably pleasant, but the streets were on fire and the flags of the side walks like unto the top of a hot stove. Standard Court was crowded with subscribers from the camp, the end of the war has proved a great let up for the camp, the farmers are now able to come to town. Some little alarm was caused at the Flores station on Sunday morning by the news that the train to Chivilcoy was stopped, but the stoppage was merely to let the train with the troops come in.

The R.M.S. Neva left Montevideo at 1 o'clock this morning and entered this afternoon; we note she took on board at Southampton some £20,000 in gold, we suppose for the Plate.

We are much indebted to Mr. Augustus Fisher for a telegram which he received from London this morning dated London Dec. 5th and stating that owing to the favorable advices from the Plate, shippers of goods had resumed shipping by steamer. This is pleasant intelligence, as owing to the very profound alarm which the revolution had caused in England nearly all shipments were stopped. The following extract from the London money market review will pretty well explain the feeling at home about the Mitre revolution:—

"The Argentine Republic during the twelve years which have elapsed since the overthrow of Urquiza's Government has been free from any serious internal disorder, and the country has progressed rapidly in population and material wealth under the successive Presidencies of General Mitre and Sr. Sarmiento. And the insurrection which has since broken out is the more unaccountable because Gen. Mitre, who heads it, and who was the defeated candidate for the Presidency, is believed to be personally unambitious, has always had a good reputation for adhering to constitutional principles, and on a former occasion surrendered the reins of government to his successful rival, Sr. Sarmiento, without a murmur. That he should resist on the present occasion, therefore, appears surprising except on the supposition that his partizans have persuaded him and have thus seduced him into a step which is alien to his character, and which inflicts in the meantime great injury on the credit of his country abroad, whatever the issue of the insurrection may be. It is believed, however, from what is known of General Mitre's character, that he will be most unwilling to commit his country to a prolonged civil war, and if not speedily successful himself he will be ready to compromise his claims, and thus permit the State to resume its peaceful development. The Argentine Republic, we need hardly add, has always been most punctual in its relations with the foreign creditor, and at the present moment we are informed the Government has already made large remittances on account of the coupons of the 1871 loan, due only in February next; all which only makes the present disturbances the subject for greater regret, though it should also diminish the apprehension which may be felt in some quarters as to any danger to the holders of Argentine securities whichever party may succeed to power as the result of the present unhappy war."

There is so much sound truth and common sense in our London colleague's remarks that we feel much pleasure in reproducing them, the leaders in the Times and some of the other London papers were for the most part bosh and savoured of what our London correspondent happily terms Seworistas and Portistas.

We note by the London papers of 9th November that Argentine Stock ran down about that time very low, of course now they are up and buoyant, still it may interest a few to know how they stood on the 9th November—

It was with sincere regret that the commercial body learned to-day of Mr. Post-Master General Posadas's resignation. Mr. Posadas has ruled our Post office for 17 years and has been most indefatigable in his exertions to improve his department, had he served so long in England he would be entitled to a retiring pension. President Avellaneda will find it difficult to find any one to fill the post better.

The loss of the La Plata with the missing portion of the Platino Cable is a great misfortune; strange that so much bad luck should cling to the Platino Co. for we hold that when its cable works through from Montevideo to Rio the shares will be worth a premium, this is now the second time this portion of the cable has been lost. This reminds us of a bridge for one of the arroyos in the South for the Southern Railway. Three times the bridge was made anew and three times lost, until the contractors began to think that destiny had so ordained that there was to be no bridge over the stream in question, at last however the 4th bridge arrived out all right—yet there are people who will say "oh this is all chance". Nothing in nature answers to chance, there is always a hitch somewhere, and we should like to hear more about the La Plata steamer and her fittings before we consign to where the coral lies sparkling the unhappy piece of the Platino Cable. Platino-Brazileiro shareholders, and there are many in this market, will read with interest the following respecting the Western Brazilian Telegraph Co. in the profits of which company the Platino shareholders have a no insignificant interest:—

"The traffic returns of the Western and Brazilian Telegraph Co. have been as follows:—"From opening of line to end of June, 1874, (for local traffic only), £16,000; since opening of Brazilian Submarine line, giving communication to Europe, the returns show for July, £7,668; do. for August, £8,596; do. for September £6,957. During September there was an interruption between Bahia and Pernambuco for 17 days. Communication with the River Plate and West Coast of South America (save by land lines), also the West Indies and North America, is not yet established, but vessels with completing sections leave in November"."

But, talking of Telegraph Companies, many parties in this market would like to know something at least of the Transandine Telegraph Co. which although it gets a yearly subsidy of 30,000 pats from Arg. Government and half that amount from Chilian Government, has to the present never paid one brass farthing to the shareholders; Mr. John Frias we understand is the agent of the company here, shareholders would like to have his views on the matter.

Whoever takes up a Montevidean paper and reads through all the auction notices of lands in every part of the Queen city suburbs, must arrive at the conclusion that the whole population of Montevideo if counted out would not afford one buyer for every solar offered; another eccentricity about the Oriental land market is that spite of all the columns and columns of auction notices, the sales made or prices realized are never by any chance published; now the question is do auctioneer advertisements go in free, and if not who pays the editor, auctioneer, land surveyor etc? It certainly does seem probable that half the Montevidean land auctions never by any chance come off, and as for the advertizements they are printed to fill up, and remind the public that around the far famed Queen city of the Plate are properties which when the time comes will be sold at 3d. their valuation.

The steamer Colombia took from Montevideo for Marseilles 45 bales wool and 46 bales cueros nonatos. The Thales took from same port for Antwerp 198 bales wool.

At the doors of the Montevidean Bolsa last week were sold 2 solares, in the Elysian fields the very Eden of the Plate, at 37½ cents per square vara; generally considered by Montevidean land men as thrown away; in the days of Adam and Eve the place would have fetched more.

The offices of the Central Uruguay Railway Co. in Montevideo have been removed to the new station in the Playa, the distance is great and in rainy weather if shareholders want to go to the offices to collect their dividends they will require Lomas de Zamora boots to pass through the Quagmire.

On Friday a Peruvian steamer the Florencia entered Montevideo from Callao with general cargo bound for Liverpool, it is seldom we see a Peruvian steamer trading on the line, Peruvian steamers so far have been iron clads etc.

The arrivals of wool at Montevideo now are very heavy, all the barracas are getting full and more buyers are wanted, they say in the Mount that wool is cheaper down there than in Buenos Ayres and this because the buyers all go up to Buenos Ayres and remain there; buyers as a rule we believe prefer the market here, and what the Montevidean barraqueros ought to do is to send their wool up here for sale.

Messrs. H. A. Green & Co. have kindly favored us with the following memorandum respecting the Lamport & Holt steam fleet:—

S.S. Hevelius, R.M.S., will leave on the 9th inst. for Antwerp and Liverpool with H.B.M. mails, and will take about 2,000 bales and 1,500 to 2,000 salted hides,

S.S. La Plata leaving 12th inst. for Antwerp and Liverpool, and now loading in the river Parana, will complete here, taking 1,800 bales and 3,000 salted hides.

S.S. Memnon due here to-morrow will load for Antwerp, and sails 16th inst.

S.S. Gassendi after receiving cargo in the river Parana, complete here, and will be despatched about the 26th inst.

S.S. Biela with the outward mails of the 29th ult. will load for Antwerp and Liverpool, leaving about the 27th inst.

S.S. Delambre due in B. Ayres 18th to 20th instant will load either at the rivers Parana or Uruguay.

S.S. Galileo, R.M.S., will leave for Antwerp and Liverpool on the 9th prox. carrying H.B.M. mails.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND CO
101--Calle Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo, and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other nonsenses.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the example of their firm in Montevideo, offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No 103 Calle Cangall from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Maua & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1872.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,
M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM,
E. DE LAS CARRERAS.

CONDITIONS.

First--The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p. %) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds sixty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wish can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

MC. DOUGALL'S
PATENT CARBOLIC
WARRANTED NON-POISONOUS. FREE FROM ARSENIC OR MERCURY.
SHEEP DRESSING
Is now used more extensively in Great Britain and the Cape than any other Dressing, and by the leading Flockmasters in preference to all others.

It instantly destroys all insects, yet is perfectly safe to use.

It stimulates the growth of the fleece, making its use very profitable.

It is an effectual remedy for Scab.

It prevents the attacks of Flies on Sheep and Cattle.

It effectually cleanses the Fleece, [being a Soft Soap with other ingredients.]

It is free from the danger and injurious effects of Poisonous Dressings.

The attention of Sheepowners in Australia, New Zealand and other parts, is with confidence invited to this Dressing. In Great Britain and at the Cape it is now generally adopted, and rapidly displaced the use of Tobacco, Arsenic, Mercury and Poisonous Mixtures. It possesses important advantages over such Dressings, being much more certain in its action, and not only free from the injurious effects produced by poisons, vegetable or mineral, but has a most stimulating action on the growth of the fleece.

It is supplied in the form of a soft soap or paste, and is applied to the animals when dissolved in water; as an ointment: or as may be desirable.

In Kegs of 50 lbs., 100 lbs. and 200 lbs. each.
